Presentation: The second of two courses in the subject area of mid-level management, covers the skills and techniques mid-level managers need to provide leadership and direction for their departments. Content includes an overview of significant economic, social, political, and technological influences affecting fire service operations. Students will have the opportunity to identify and relate these influences to their personal and professional situations, and to practice strategies for managing changes resulting from those influences.

Audience: Individuals presently assigned to management positions who supervise first-line officers and administrative officers responsible for significant staff functions within the organization and who report directly to top management.

Registration: Advanced registration closes February 21, 2010. Registration is open to all interested persons, but will be limited to 30. Priority is given to Maryland residents. There is a $50-a-day fee for out-of-state participants. Please register on-line at www.mfri.org/seminars. If you have any questions or need to cancel, please email seminars@mfri.org or call 301-226-9920 or 800-275-6374.
